AMIAF SEAL

AI and blockchain that let African artists prove a work is theirs, describe it so buyers find it, and sell it worldwide, in one minute on a phone. Built in Nigeria by Vorem Limited · runs the Artmiabo Collection with Artmiabo · artmiaboseal.art

53
works sealed by 35 artists in 2 hours, live at AMIAF 2026, Abuja (30 Sept 2026)

112
works sealed by 47 Nigerian artists, every record intact

92%
of listings (103 of 112) first drafted by AI from the photo, then made the artist's own

₦53.4m
of original art listed for sale (63 works); artists keep 72%

THE INNOVATION

1. AI that helps artists sell. A vision model reads the photo and drafts title, story and search keywords; the artist edits in their own words. It never invents facts and never makes the art: AI images cannot be sealed.
2. A seal anyone can check. A tamper-evident register, each record locked to the one before, anchored on the Polygon blockchain. Three words, checkable by anyone in ten seconds, no app or wallet.
3. A record they can hand over. A one-page record of authorship for residencies, prizes and visa applications; a public certificate (94 on Polygon / OpenSea) that passes to the buyer.
4. A sale, not just a seal. Every work priced in naira and dollars; pay by card, transfer or USSD via Paystack; 72% to the artist.
5. Safeguards. Visual-fingerprint copy detection, an "under review" status for disputes, and no personal or payment data on the public record.

HUMAN VS AI, LIVE

At the festival, 24 of 30 people (80%) picked a real painting over an AI imitation. People can still tell. The seal lets a buyer abroad be just as sure.
